

HigherEdUSA

College Major(s) – Your Interests, Passion, Effort and Career Pathway

Prepared by

Dr. May Kuangchi Chen

The Milky Way Education/HigherEdUSA

October 2022

Contents

What is a college major?

Five primary factors in choosing a college major

Top college majors for future job market in the U.S.

Top ranked universities with the most popular college majors

College majors with growth and earning potentials

Pros and cons of declaring a major on college application

Restrictions on choosing a major

Change major

Final note

Please contact HigherEdUSA for the entire PPT

What is a College Major?

A college major is the subject area a student spends the most time studying.

Beyond general college requirements, you'll also take a group of courses in a subject of your choosing such as Chemistry, Comparative Literature, or Political Science. At some colleges or universities you can even design your own major, e.g., interdisciplinary studies.

Required Upper Division Core Courses

UGBA 100	Business Communication	2
UGBA 101A	Microeconomic Analysis for Business Decisions	3
UGBA 101B	Macroeconomic Analysis for Business Decisions	3
UGBA 102A	Financial Accounting	3
UGBA 102B	Managerial Accounting	3
UGBA 103	Introduction to Finance	4
UGBA 104	Introduction to Business Analytics	3
UGBA 105	Leading People	3
UGBA 106	Marketing	3
UGBA 107	The Social, Political, and Ethical Environment of Business	3
Total Units		30

Choosing Your Best Suitable Major

Selecting your best suitable college is a big decision.

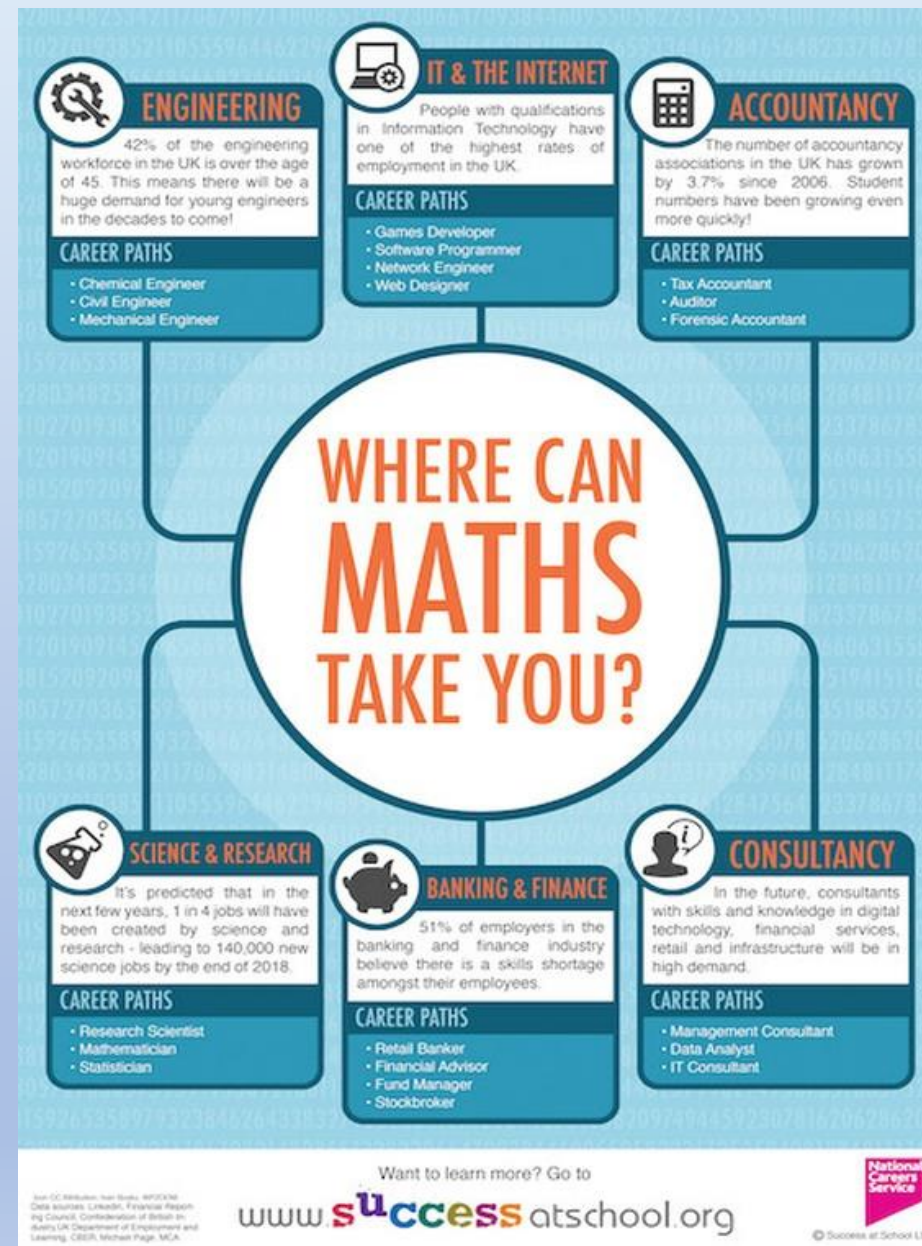

Choosing your best suitable major in college may be a bigger decision that you need to make, since it often sets you up for a specific career path.

Influential Factor 1 in Choosing a College Major: Favorite High School Subject(s)

Some students choose a major simply because they love the school subject.

If you love what you're studying, you're more likely to fully engage with that subject with passion and effort, and that can mean better grades and sense of accomplishment which will lead you to a bright career pathway.

Should You Declare a Major on College Application?

HigherEdUSA

Many selective colleges have certain restrictions regarding major selection.

- If you have already decided, then...
- If you are still undecided, then...

Declaring a Major during Application

- If the college that you really want to attend does not have your intended major, then...
- If you have a college/program in mind, but are not quite qualified, then...

Final Notes

Choosing a major may be more challenging than selecting a college.

Ask yourself: Is this major my own choice or someone else selected for me, and How do I feel about this college major?

It is important to review requirements for declaration of all majors as early as possible.

Don't try to game the system.

HigherEdUSA will:

- help you to conduct detailed research on how your short list of best suitable schools view declaring a major on the application. Is it required or highly encouraged?
- share with you strategies for selecting or changing a major without wasting time and tuition., and
- guide you step-by-step going through this maze of selecting a college major.