How to Find Your Best Suitable College*?

Among the 4,000 colleges and universities* in the U.S., how do you find your best fit?

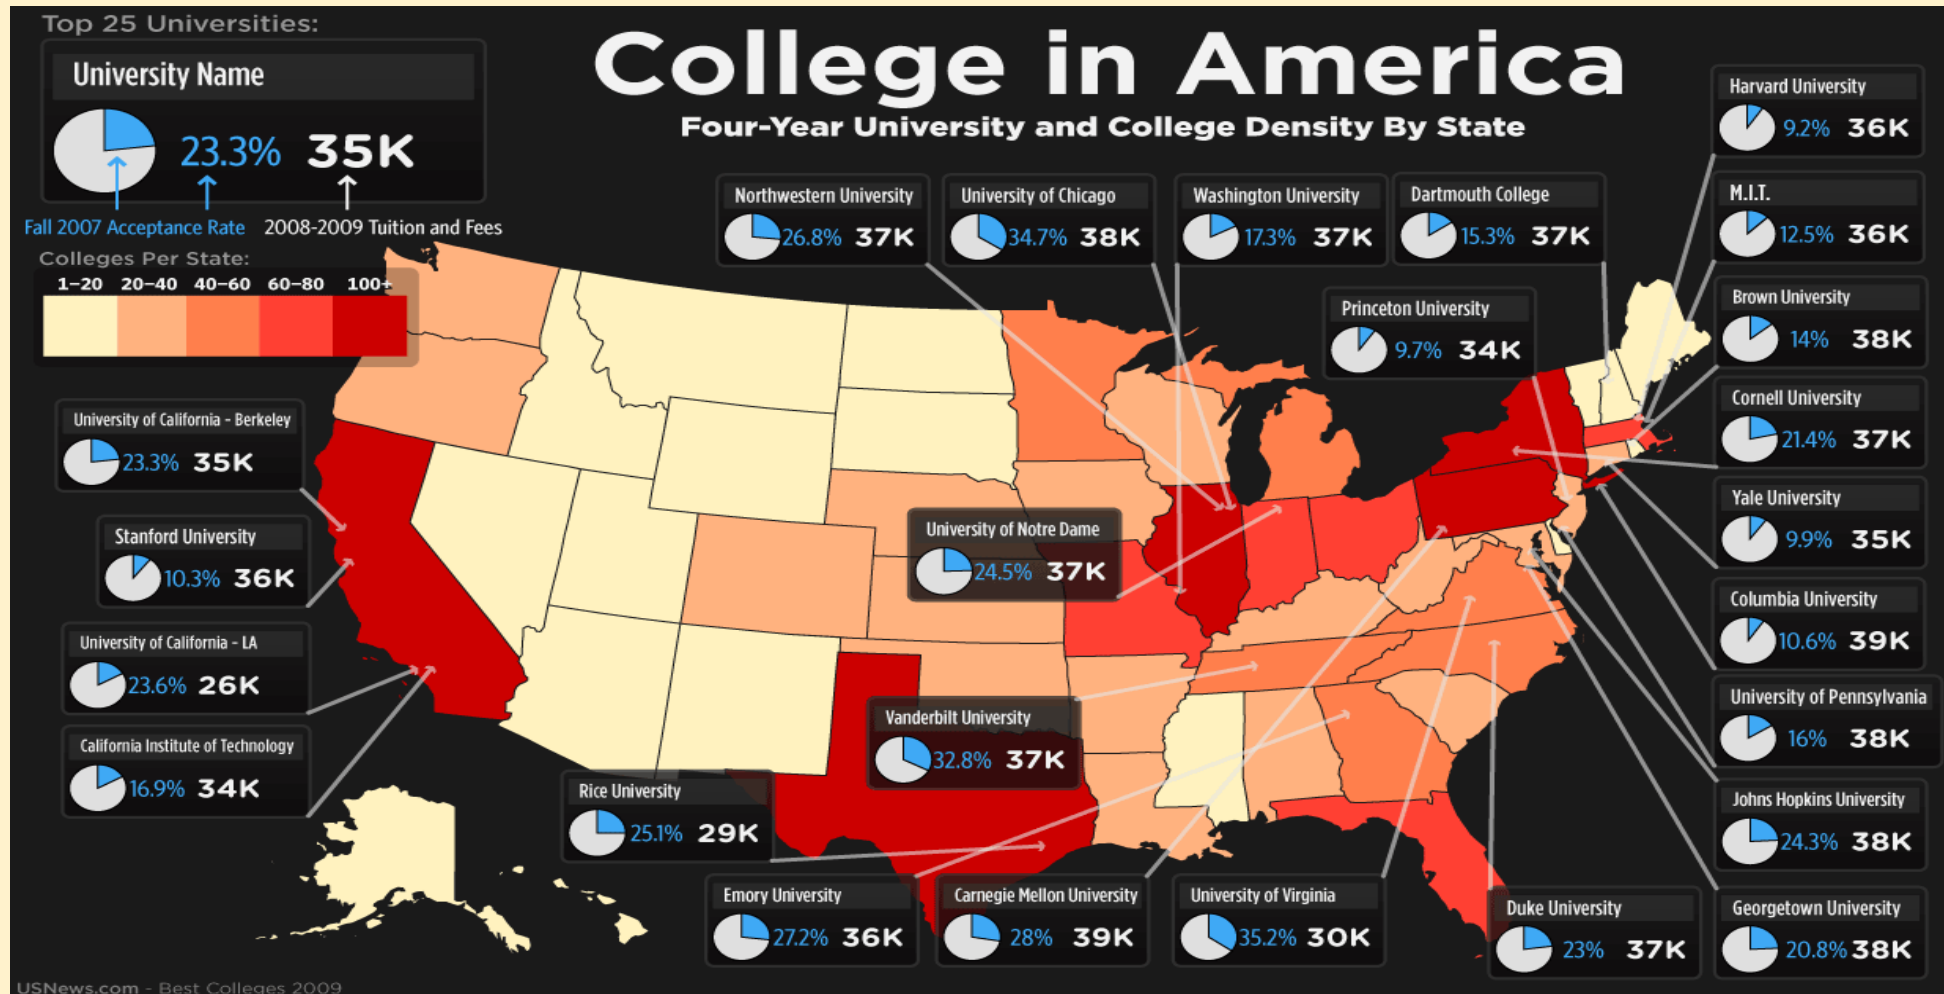

Instead of trying to look for that needle in a haystack, HigherEdUSA will assist you in developing a step-by-step plan and following through in an organized fashion.

By following a well-organized sequence of steps, you can feel confident in your college decision.

*Colleges and universities will be referred as colleges/college in this PowerPoint.

College Selection Criteria 1. Location

List Creation Stage - Draft Your Best Suitable College List

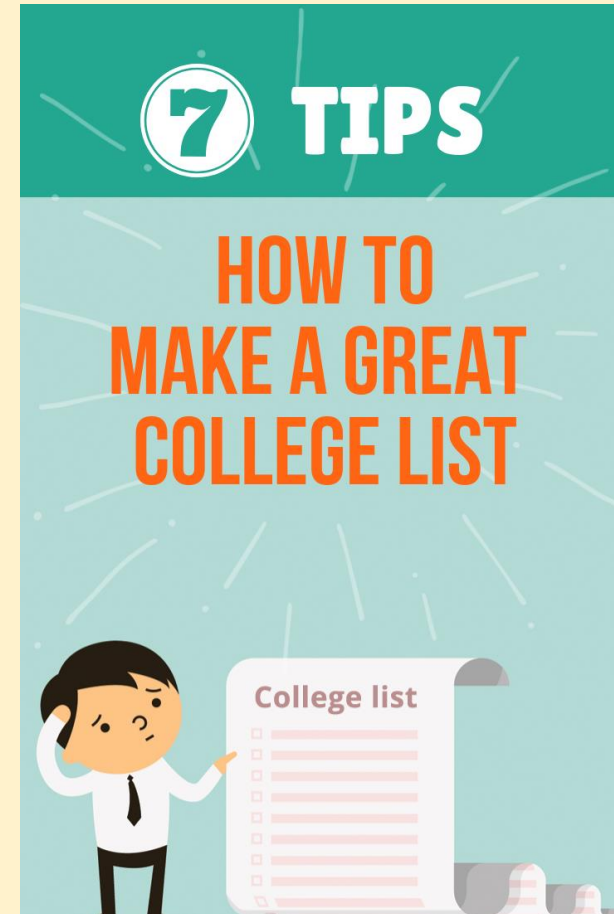

HigherEdUSA will guide you through the drafting process by:

1. Reviewing your college selection thoughts
2. Matching your academic performance, e.g., GPA, class rank, SAT/ACT, and course work with comparable colleges
3. Highlighting your school counselor meeting agenda, including meeting topics for you to discuss with your college counselor. If there is more than one college counselor, make sure to stick with one.

List Creation - Assess Your Chance of Being Accepted

HigherEdUSA

HigherEdUSA will assist you in developing, completing, and updating a spreadsheet comparing and assessing your academic data with those of the colleges on your draft list.

Narrowing Down the List

When finished, your list should include several dream, target, and safety schools.

Remember, there will be more than one school that's right for you. What you're doing at this stage is narrowing down your options to good possibilities.

HigherEdUSA will show you vital steps to take in order to finalize the list.
